ABCMI will strive to be the leading representative for the industrial marine sector of British Columbia and a catalyst for competitive, efficient and environmentally responsible industrial marine activity. We will forge a strategic view of the sector and be an active, innovative contributor to the international competitiveness of British Columbia marine industries.

Our goal is to work together to strengthen the industrial marine sector of British Columbia. We will create a positive environment in which our industry can prosper and our people can grow.

ABCMI will work with policy makers to ensure we have an environment which stimulates our workforce and businesses.

We will seek customers for our sector, bringing their projects to our region and our products and services to their markets.

We will collaborate with labour and educational institutes to ensure we have a full supply of talent to fuel our growth.

The Association of British Columbia Marine Industries is a member driven organization. It has a professional administrative staff overseen by a Board elected from the membership. The priorities, goals and objectives will be driven by the membership, as will the benefits and services that the Association provides.

Your support and active participation is the key to ABCMI's success.

We're very happy to have you joining with us in making the British Columbia marine industry robust, sustainable and competitive on the world stage.
